The Cream of the Crop for Every Taste

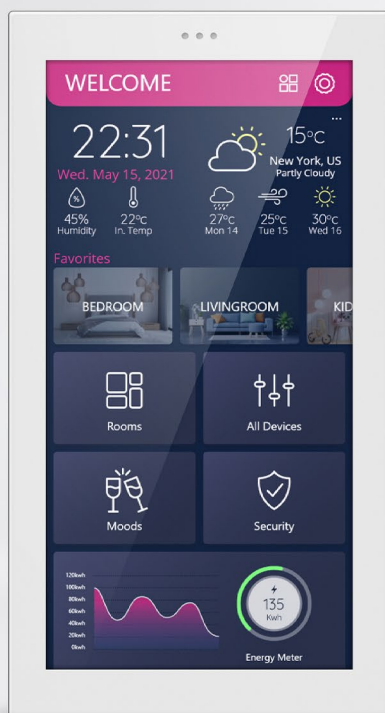

Smart home solutions are designed in a way that both covers your smart needs and blends into your home's interior. You can mount TIS control panels anywhere around the house and be certain that they sparkle on the wall. Saturn 57 is a new control panel manufactured by TIS that gives you the tech-enriched yet velvety vibe you expect from a smart device.

Saturn 57 is an elegant touch-sensitive interface with a sleek and customizable design that also features a central dashboard for your smart home settings.

Always ready to operate your commands, Saturn 57 senses your presence and wakes up as you approach it so you can use its display to set lights, AC, music, curtain, scenes, security, etc.

With few fingertip touches, you are all set to create a romantic evening for your wedding anniversary. Have the living room light dimmed to a purple shade, play a piece of favorite music, and let your smart home make a toast to your love.

Consider your Saturn switch as a mini-computer on the wall which allows you to see music albums, weather forecast, list of chandeliers, and curtains all around the house on a high-resolution screen.

The features of this control panel are accessible on your smartphone or tablet. You just need to add the Saturn 57 to your TIS hub so you can activate, create, or change smart settings without moving an inch.

So no matter if you are in the hallway, your child's bedroom, in bed, at the office, or in the car heading to spend your weekend with your grandparents, you can always control your home all embedded in Saturn 57 panel.

This device comes with high-quality glass and frames and makes your interior scheme just flawless. After all, nothing sounds more delightful than being able to conveniently create beautiful moments with a beautiful piece of equipment.

We are here to help you live peacefully and comfortably with Saturn 57.
